The 13th Century Moat House is located in the picturesque village of Acton Trussell in the heart of rural Staffordshire, only 1 mile from Junction 13 of the M6 between Manchester and Birmingham, and in close proximity to both the NEC and ICC. On site parking is available for over 200 vehicles.

Directions to The Moat House...

From the M6

Leave at Junction 13 and take the A449 towards Stafford. At the first island take the first turning right (next to the Argos Distribution Centre) signposted for Acton Trussell, cross the canal bridge and bear right through the village. The Moat House is at the far end of the village close to the Church.

From the A34

At Brocton Crossroads (on the Stafford side of the Chetwynd Arms Public House) turn towards Penkrige, take the fourth turning right and The Moat House is on your left.

From Penkrige/A449

At the island in the centre of Penkrige turn towards Brocton. Continue along this road for 2½ miles after crossing the canal take the first turning left. The Moat House is then on your left.
